

Wild Bank Primary School

Behaviour policy 2024

"We accept every emotion but not every behaviour"

Purpose of this policy

This document provides the framework for the creation of a happy, secure and orderly environment in which children can learn and develop as caring and responsible citizens. It is written for the benefit of all members of the school community, to enable everyone to understand the policy of the school and to apply it fairly and consistently.

Our policy and practice is underpinned by and measured against the principles illustrated below:

At Wild Bank, our vision and values are at the core of everything we do. They underpin our teaching and learning, and provide an environment which prepares our pupils as confident and happy citizens. Our values are for all our children to SPARKLE by showing positive

Self-belief, Perseverance, Aspiration, Respect, Kindness, Love and Empathy

Self-belief to have the confidence in their own skin, abilities and judgements

Perseverance to push themselves to work through challenges, overcoming difficulties on the way

Aspiration through building a strong desire to achieve

Respect by valuing the worth of others as well as being heard and knowing that someone cares enough to listen

Kindness by being thoughtful and considerate

Love by feeling safe and secure and knowing that those around them care

Empathy by demonstrating the ability to understand or feel what another person is experiencing

We believe that everybody in our school has a right to expect these things and a responsibility to foster and deliver them. They are the benchmark against which everything we do is measured. They are not aims, to be delivered somewhere in the future, but a set of beliefs that we consider to be the foundation of what we do for every child, every member of staff, every member of our community – every day.

Our aims for behaviour are that all children will:

- Achieve their potential in terms of self-esteem, academic achievement, self-discipline and spiritual awareness
- Be tolerant and act with understanding and consideration for the rights, views and property of others, regardless of race, gender, religion or sexual orientation
- Develop a positive, responsible and co-operative attitude towards work
- Take a pride and a responsible interest in caring for their environment, their community and, as far as possible, take responsibility for their own actions
- Develop into citizens who exemplify the values within their later life, supporting and promoting British Values.

In this policy, it is our aim to develop the positive atmosphere and ethos that is so important to the learning and personal development of every pupil in our school.

We recognise the need to involve everyone concerned with the school within this process:

This policy is fundamentally linked to the work done through Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) and Sex and Relationships Education (SRE) curriculum which aims to teach our pupils how to exemplify and actively promote the school's values. It is underpinned by thorough and regular input from pupils through our School Council.

Class Dojo:

This online parent/carer communication system enables adults in school to acknowledge pupils' good choices, with feedback being sent instantly to the parent or carer. For every choice acknowledged and rewarded by the adult, the child receives Dojo points. Classes can share work on Class Dojo and details about events. It also allows parents to communicate information about their children with their teacher. Once a child has reached a certain amount of Dojos, they are rewarded with a prize of their choice. These are gained at various points eg once a child reaches 30 dojos, 50 dojos, 100 dojos etc. The children are involved in the choosing of these rewards and are able to continue to accumulate points throughout the school year.

Children will not lose dojo points for making poor choices.

Reward Systems

We encourage acceptable behaviour by consistently recognising, highlighting and rewarding appropriate behaviour which underpins and promotes our values. All adults in school explain and demonstrate the behaviour we wish to see, ensure that feedback is constructive and actively encouraging the children to be responsible for their own and others' behaviour. Children are praised for effort, achievement and appropriate behaviour. We believe that our reward system will encourage children to work hard, behave well and work together. It will not only apply to academic achievement and success but also celebrate examples of good citizenship and acts of kindness and consideration. The system will be applied consistently by all staff throughout the school. There are three aspects:

- Intrinsic reward Promotes a child's feeling of self-satisfaction in their own achievement
- Individual reward Will recognise and reward a child's individual efforts and achievement
- Whole class award Will acknowledge the teamwork and collaboration exhibited within a class/group

Zones of Regulation

The zones of regulation are a means of allowing children to be supported with their emotional literacy, understanding how they are feeling, acknowledging these feelings and knowing that they are able to move between zones, using the tools that they have been equipped with to talk through their emotions.

By using the zones, children can feel more in control, focused, ready to learn and join in.

How can you help yourself?

The BLUE zone	The GREEN zone	The YELLOW zone	The RED zone

How might you feel?	How might you feel?	How might you feel?	How might you feel?
sad tired bored moving slowly	happy okay focussed ready to learn	nervous confused silly not ready to learn	angry frustrated scared out of control
What might help you?	What might help you?	What might help you?	What might help you?
Talk to someone Stretch Take a brain break Stand Take a walk Close my eyes	The goal of this exercise is to get to the GREEN zone. What can you do to be happy, calm and ready to learn?	Talk to someone Count to 20 Take deep breaths Squeeze something Draw a picture Take a brain break	Stop what I'm doing Make sensible choices Take deep breaths Ask for a break Find a safe space Ask for help

“We accept every emotion but not every behaviour”

Consequences

Whilst our policy encourages good behaviour and self-discipline through positive reinforcement and good modelling, occasionally children may behave inappropriately. We realise the importance of a consistent approach when dealing with any misbehaviour. We adopt a 'least to most intrusive' approach across school, dealing with poor choices and misdemeanours in a sensible progression, encouraging children to reflect on their choices and return to a state of positive self-determined behaviour. It is expected that, whilst inappropriate behaviour must be effectively addressed by adults in our school, they must also look beyond the action of the child in a bid to find the cause.

Behaviour ladder
 Out of seat	 Shouting out	 Talking over others	 Not listening
 Rude	 Distracting	 Messing about	 Off task	 Disrespect
Redirection	Help to refocus your learning.
Reminder	A reminder of the expectations.
Opportunity with a possible time out to reflect	Discussion about your behaviour and a reminder of the consequences. A chance for reflection away from others to regulate behaviour.
Referral	Moved to another room for the remainder of the session. Adults informed For some behaviours, it may be necessary to move straight to the blue section
Repair	Plan for better next time! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lost learning will be completed • Apologies will be made • Damaged property or work will be repaired or paid for

By using the Arbor system, staff members will support the school in investigating patterns of inappropriate behaviour so that effective support can be offered to the child in removing any barriers to learning. Recognising that certain inappropriate behaviours are more serious than others, the following are suggested in levels of scale (this list is not exhaustive):

Unacceptable behaviours

- Talking at the wrong time
- Shouting for attention
- Persistently out of seat
- Causing a minor disturbance to other children at work or play
- Making unnecessary noise
- Use of inappropriate language (not swearing)
- Name-calling
- Behaving disrespectfully (arguing aggressively/answering back)
- Significantly interfering with someone else's work or play
- Deliberately damaging or stealing property
- Throwing objects
- Rough play fighting
- Repeated refusal to follow instructions
- Swearing
- Verbal abuse of an adult
- Fighting or intentionally hurting other children
- Racial, cultural, gender-based or homophobic abuse
- Bullying
- Encouraging others to misbehave

Purple: verbal reminder of following of the rules

Yellow: Time-out or sanction recommended: KS1: 5 mins in Nurture Nook; KS2: 5 mins in Nurture Nook (time to reflect)

Blue: Time-out or sanction recommended: whole session in another class eg 9-11am; 11-12; 1-3pm

Next breaktime or part of lunch is missed and there is a chance to catch up on work; repair any damage caused

For some behaviours, it may be necessary to move straight to the blue section.

If a child is persistently behaving in a manner which is unacceptable other sanctions may include parents being asked to come into school to support their children, internal seclusions for a longer period of time (eg ½ a day/1 day) or a seclusion at another Trust school. This will be at the discretion of the Headteacher or Deputy Headteacher.

Effective strategies for encouraging appropriate behaviour:

- Show children that you value their efforts and hard work beyond anything
- Give pupils work that is relevant
- See beyond the behaviour in a search for interests and matched to abilities; look for the underlying cause
- Expect and reinforce positive choice and appropriate behaviour through praise and reward

- Important things for adults to do:
- Be positive
- Organise yourself and the classroom well
- Try not to lose your temper
- Be seen as fair and consistent
- Don't punish whole groups
- Encourage pupils to take responsibility
- Don't use /severe/unnecessary sanction
- Develop good relationships with pupils,
- Avoid labelling or anticipating poor behaviour – parents and staff
- Avoid being verbally abusive
- Lead by example
- Avoid making idle threats or false promises
- Avoid being inconsistent/unpredictable
- Act as a good role-model – model the behaviour you would like to see in others
- Avoid having too many/confusing/unnecessary rules and restrictions

Behaviour Outside of the Classroom

We aim to provide a consistent approach to promoting appropriate behaviour, wherever learning takes place. Therefore, we expect all of our staff (lunchtime/before-school etc) to reward using the same method. Where staff do not have ready online access to Class Dojo, they will have laminated Dojo cards to hand to children who have earned them by showing their SPARKLE values. This will be recorded by the teacher/classroom staff member on Class Dojo on return to class.

Initially classroom or lunchtime misbehaviour will be dealt with by Classroom or Midday staff members, more serious misbehaviour should be referred to the class teacher, then if required, to the Deputy Head teacher or to the Head Teacher.

Continual or Escalated Behaviours:

In recognising that significant and repeated inappropriate behaviour is very often caused by other factors, we aim to ensure that children can be supported at an enhanced level so that they can learn to self-moderate. School employs a trained SEND and pastoral team who will intervene and support the child until behaviour improves.

Following the identification of concerns by a staff member or parent/carer, we would investigate three potential pathways:

1. Emotional: a child's behaviour may be affected by circumstances or issues which are impacting on their emotional wellbeing. There are many and varied reasons which could impact a child's emotional state, including the possibilities that the child is subject to external factors which require safeguarding support and intervention. School is well placed to support children in overcoming these barriers, including the investment in a highly trained pastoral team, the deployment of an expressive-arts therapist
2. Medical/Developmental: a child's behaviour may be affected due to a medical or developmental issue or condition. This would be addressed through a SEND pathway and is covered by SEND policy and practice
3. Environmental/social: a child's behaviour may be affected by factors which pertain to their social circumstances; e.g. home life/family interactions/school-based perceptions. School safeguarding policy makes clear how these issues should be reported and addressed. We remain resolute in our belief that it is our responsibility to leave no stone unturned in the pursuit of supporting children in happy and successful, both in school and out. We act in all cases where we believe that environmental/social/family circumstances are negatively impacting a child's school life. These actions are often proactive: e.g. using our PHSE policy to teach our children what healthy family life should look and feel like; supporting families experiencing hardship through deployment of food parcels; offering a free-to-all breakfast club; support for parents through our pastoral lead. Actions can also be reactive: e.g. speaking to and working with parents when a report is made by a staff member or child which raises an environmental or social concern; referral to social services when reports are raised which indicate the potential for elevated risk to a child (safeguarding policy and practice is used in the management of these cases).

In all cases, staff are instructed to act with objectivity and without prejudice, with the only aim to remove a potential barrier to learning.

APPENDIX 1 BULLYING

Wild Bank is a place where everyone has the right to be themselves. It's a place where everyone can feel safe, be happy and learn. Everyone at our school is equal and acts with respect and kindness towards each other. Our school strives to be a bully-free place.

What is bullying?

Bullying is when a person is hurtful or unkind to someone else, on purpose and more than once. Bullying can be done by one person or a group of people. A useful way to remember bullying is SEVERAL TIMES ON PURPOSE

Bullying can be:

Physical: e.g. kicking, hitting and damaging their belongings.

Verbal: e.g. name calling, threats and making offensive remarks.

Indirect: e.g. spreading nasty stories about someone, gossiping and leaving someone out from social groups like games.

Cyber: sending nasty emails, online messages, texts or making nasty phone calls.

Bullying can be about:

Race, ethnicity, religion or belief

- A teacher will talk to the perpetrator and find out why s/he is bullying others
- The incident will be logged and proven cases reported on Arbor, (parents to be informed of this)
- The behaviour of the perpetrator will be monitored
- Should further incidents occur the parents of the bully will be informed and involved
- It may be decided the perpetrator needs further help
- In very serious cases the Head Teacher will decide if further action needs to be taken

APPENDIX 2 Dealing With Racist Incidents

RACISM – A racist incident is any incident which is perceived to be racist by the victim or any other person. (Stephen Lawrence Inquiry)

Legal obligations

Schools in Tameside have had guidance available since 1987 advising them of the need to have a clear policy towards racist behaviour. This requires:

- That all schools record racist incidents
- That all recorded incidents are reported to Governors
- That all recorded incidents are reported to the pupils' parents/guardians, school governors and LA
- That the numbers and self-defined ethnicity of 'excluded' pupils are published annually on a school-by-school basis

Aims

- To eliminate incidents of racism
- To deal with racism effectively
- To work together to create and maintain a secure, calm and healthy learning environment
- To record and analyse incidents of racism
- To monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the anti-racism policy
- To review the anti-racist policy to inform future practice

What is racism?

Racism is defined above but may include the following behaviour or actions:

- Incitement of others to behave in a racist way such as bringing racist leaflets, magazines or computer software into school
- Physical assault against a person or group because of colour, race and/or ethnicity
- Verbal abuse and threats
- Derogatory name-calling, insults, racist jokes and language
- Racist graffiti – wearing racist badges or insignia and other provocative behaviour
- Racist comments during lessons
- Attempts to recruit other pupils to racist organisations and groups
- Refusal to co-operate with other people because of their colour, ethnicity, language, accent or dialect
- Ridiculing someone because of their cultural differences
- Incidents may not involve a direct victim and these are described as 'victimless'. This is where, for example, a pupil makes derogatory comments about a particular racial group but there are no members of that group in the classroom.

General Principles

- Wild Bank is an anti-racist school
- our approach will seek to educate (or re-educate) perpetrators and to assure victims that racism is not tolerated
- We work in partnerships based on mutual respect and we value and respect everyone
